

Web/Software Developer

Team:	IT
Working to:	IT Director
Working with:	IT Team; Sales Teams

What does this role contribute to the Company?

This role will ensure our Bloc Blinds websites are continually developing to maximise their effectiveness. You will be a key contributor to the architecture of the end user experience.

What we'll ask of you:

You must love code, and want to utilise your abilities to make a real impact on business performance. You will apply your knowledge and previous experience, but you are also keen to immerse yourself into our current systems including our bespoke in-house production system, our trade portal and our various websites. You will be asked to develop on top of these established platforms using content provided, always taking consideration for the user experience, SEO and security of the platforms. You assist in the development of new sites, incorporating these within brand guidelines and current software development processes. Most of all, you will work as part of the immediate and wider teams, contributing to our web developments, and enabling growth and progression of our software platforms.

And, as with all roles at Bloc Blinds, your flexibility and co-operation is both expected and appreciated.

What we're looking for:

You have experience in a similar role, and experience of various programming languages (SQL Server, ASP.net, Vb.Net, C#, html, css, javascript, jquery etc.). You'll have a passion for code, and for the impact that effective systems have on the end user experience, particularly in terms of accessibility, usability and security. You should be able to work efficiently on your own, as well as a member of the team, and be proactive with great attention to detail. You should have a knowledge of SEO and PPC. You will need a basic understanding or interest in the retail sales process within a business. Most importantly must be enthusiastic about software development, and its ability to assist a business in performing efficiently.

What will we do for you?

In return we offer a flexible approach to working hours, autonomy so you manage your own day to day workload, and a friendly and supportive team to work with. The Company has ambitious plans for growth and is keen to build a team who can grow alongside the business, so there are opportunities for development, coupled with the opportunity to work with one of the most innovative and passionate teams in the industry.
